AN INTERESTING EXHIBITION. - Professors Holmes and Gibbes will exhibit to-morrow night, at the College Chapel, a number of historical views, by means of grand magic lanterns. The exhibition will consist of views principally from Egypt, but they will be varied with general illustrations of European history. These exhibitions are both entertaining and instructive, and have always been well patronized. The course now proposed will be attended with additional interest when it is known that the object is charity.

Removal of Mayor Gaillard.

GENERAL BURNS, THE MILITARY AFPOINTEE—THE PARTING ADDRESS OF HIS HONOR, &C., &C.

A clap of thunder on a clear summer noon could not have startled our community more than the announcement that Mayor P. C. Brigadier-General W. W. Burns, of the United | quitoes and capturing Seminole Indian; in States army. These tidings were scarcely cold, before the members of the Council were summoned by their old friend and associate to with dignity, ability and grace.

o'clock. The ceremony was brief, formal and ern Virginia. On the 28th September, 1861, he solemn. General Burns arrived at the Council chamber a few minutes before the hour above named, and by appointment proceeded directly to the office of Mayor Gaillard, with Oaks, Savage Station (where he was woundwhom he held a comparatively long and, under the peculiar circumstances, a satisfactory interview.

Meanwhile the chamber was gradually occupied by members of the Council and a few spectators, the great community outside knowing nothing of the event about to take place. DAILY NEWS by the week are particularly re- Present-Aldermen Ravenel, Gerdts, Olney, Steinmeyer, O'Neill, Oakes, Marshall, Enston, Whilden, Butler, Parker, Courtenay, Pringle, Small and Willis.

At precisely seven o'clock, accompanied by seat. Both gentlemen were evidently much sary of Georgia and Florida. affected-one by the feeling of sorrow that he bound him to all present; the other by the consciousness that, in obeying the military order which compelled him to displace the legal head of the civil government of the city, not be received with that warmth of welcome which, under ordinary circumstances, would have graced the occasion.

There were no preliminary proceedings, and, with a subdued voice, tremulous with emotion, Mayor Gaillard proceeded at once to address

LARD.

Gentlemen of the Council: I have called you tog ether this evening in consequence of the receipt, between the hours of 12 and 1 o'clock to-day, of the tollowing order from the head-quarters of the Second Military District, which eads as follows: HEADQUARTERS SECOND MILITARY DISTRICT,

CHARLESTON, February 19, 1868. [Special Orders No. 48.]

[Special Orders No. 48.]

EXTRACT.]

Brovet Brigadier-General W. W. Burns, Chief Commissary of Subsistence, in addition to the other duties of his office, is assigned to the duty of Mayor of the City of Charleston, vice P. C. Gaillard, Esq., who is hereby removed.

By command of Major-General E. R. S.

LOUIS V. CAZIARC, A. A. G. The publication of this order severs my connection with you in the administration of city affairs; but before taking leave I beg that you affairs; but before taking leave I beg that you will indulge me for a few moments. The circumstancea attending my election to this high office are tamiliar to you all. Nominated without solicitation on my part, and even during my absence from the city, the large and handsome support which was given to me in preference to a formidable rival candidate, has impressed upon my heart feelings that will be cherished while life lasts. Oft times heretofore I have been placed in trying circumstances, but I do not know that ever before I have had so painful a duty to perform as that of tonight.

Before bidding you adieu, one word as to our relations towards each other. Many differences of opinion have existed, and much feeling may have been exhibited on both sides; der the circu ding that appoint be referred to Henry Summer, Registrar of Bankruptcy.

Professora

Went I do not feel that it is incumbent upon me to administer to the new Mayor the usual oath of office. In fact, a portion of the oath I would have to omit, and after consultation with him, I have determined to dispense with it altogether.

General: Introducing you to the Aldermen of the city, I wish to say this, that in our in-tercourse, short as it has been, it has always been marked with pleasantness and courtesy, and after the interview we had to-day, allow me to state that I hold you in higher estimation than I did before. Gentlemen, I bid you farewell. On concluding these remarks Colonel Gaillard, apparently overcome with emotion, retired from the chamber. During their delivery the silence was almost painful, and the faces of all present wore an aspect of gravity that would have become a respectable funeral.

REMARKS OF GENERAL BURNS. The address of the new Mayor was brief, pertinent, and expressive. He said:

Genitemen and Members of the Council: You are all gentlemen of intelligence and mon of honor. You can therefore appreciate the denonor. To the therefore applicate the de-licate position I occupy here in holding an elective office without having received the sur-rages of the people. I can only assure you that I shall do my duty to you and to the people of Charleston to the best of my ability.

Both of the above addresses were extemporaneous in their character, and, as a matter of public interest, we have published them ver-

Alderman Whilden said: It is proper that in parting at a time like this with one with whom we have been associated for over two years we have been associated for over two years past, we should give some slight expression to our feelings. I wish that I could express all I feel—and I have no doubt most of you will concur with me—but prudence and the respect that is due to our new Mayor suggest that these feelings should be controlled. They, nevertheless, have sank deeply in our hearts, and will stir the hearts of all interested in our little that the parts of all interested in our city where most of us have been born and nur-tured, and of which, in her desolation, we are still proud. And if, gentlemen, all of her sons possess the same unsulfied purity that has characterized our recently removed Mayor, we would have less frequent occasion for regret. Living and dying for principle has always been extolled as an example worthy of imitation. If our late Mayor had, by the usual and legal pro-cess, been displaced, it would have been a sub-ject of regret; but, under the present circum-stances of his removal, ought it not to be rathor a subject of congratulation on the part of our citizens that he has been removed from office with his character pure and unsullied?

In conclusion allow me to offer the following preamble and resolution:

Whereas, Hon. P. C. Gaillard has been removed by the military authorities from his position as Mayor of the City of Charleston.

Therefore he it. Therefore, be it

Resouved, That this Council exceedingly regret the removal of Colonel Gaillard from his position as Mayor of the City and presiding officer of this Board; that Colonel Gaillard will carry with him our best wishes, and that as a Board and individually he has cur thanks for the sterling integrity and manly candor which have always characterized him in his interourse with this Council. The resolution was adopted.

General Burns is par excellence a soldier. Born in Ohio, he was appointed a cadet at West Point from that State in 1842. Graduating in 1847, he served through the Mexican war, and so will come out from the recesses of speculadistinguished himself not only by his gallantry tive enterprises, tell our depressed planters of in the field, but by an exhibition of executive a resource hitherto unknown, and open up the ability as the Military Alcalde or Mayor of the El Dorado that promises to enrich our ex-City of Mexico after its occupation by General | hausted fields.

Scott. Subsequently, he was transferred to East Pascagoula, Miss., and then commenced that roving, rambling, nomadic career which makes every "old army" officer a cosmopolite. We find him on frontier duty at Fort Smith, Arkansas; at Fort Gibson, in the Indian territory, in 1850; on the Rio Brazos in 1852 and Gaillard, the honored chief magistrate of 1853; scouting among the Camanches in 1854 Charleston, had been superseded by Brevet and dividing his time between murdering mos-

The first year of resignation of the office he has so long filled | the war he was Commissary of Subsistence of the Department of Ohio, and filled that office The meeting was held last evening at seven during General McClellan's campaign in Westwas appointed a Brigadier-General of Volunteers; was subsequently engaged in the siege of Yorktown, the battles of Fair ed), and Malvern Hill. For gallant conduct in these engagements he was brevetted Lieutenant-Colonel in the regular army; was engaged in the battle of Fredericksburg, and all sorts of skirmishes; received more brevets; was made Major-General of volunteers; resigned the last named commission in 1863; was assigned to his old duties as Commissary of Subsistence; made President of an Examining Board of Commissioners for the Third Military District; brevetted Brigadier-General for meritorious services, and, after the war, assign-General Burns, the Mayor entered the cham- ed to this department as the Chief Commissary ber, and perhaps for the last time took his old of South Carolina, and Supervising Commis-

Last, but not least, in this catalogue of honwas about to sever the official relations which ors is his appointment as Mayor of Charleston. Although from the above recapitulation of public services rendered the reader may suppose General Burns to be about a hundred, he holds his own handsomely at the age of fortyand to represent military authority, he could six; is well preserved; elastic, good natured, retiring in manner and bountifully pos sessed of the suavier in modo. His usual attire, except on official occasions, is that of a plain, unassuming citizen. Any one approaching with courtesy is to receive courtesy in return; and although, as he remarked last evening, his new position PARTING ADDICESS OF HIS HONOR MAYOR GAIL- is a peculiarly delicate and embarrassing one, we venture the observation that when our people have become acquainted with General Burns, and learned by experience that he intends to perform his duties with the best interests of the community in view, they will be prepared to render to him their confidence and support.

It will be remembered that several months ago it was rumored that General Sickles would remove the civil authorities of the city. General Burns was then spoken of as the probable occupant of the office, and was sent to the North to make himself thoroughly familiar with the municipal regulations of the best conducted cities. The information obtained on that tour will serve him well in his present office, and with the tact, management and experience of one accustomed to executive duties, he will doubtless hold the reins of the city government in such a manner as not to wound the tender sensibilities of those who "champ the bit."

THE THEATRE last night drew a very full audience, there being few vacant soats in the house. The melodrama presented was a highly emotional and sensational piece, ever and anon affording the herome a critical juncture at which to display her fine vocal powers. The evening's entertainment was concluded with the roaring farce, "To oblige Benson," which Many differences of opinion have existed, and much feeling may have been exhibited on both sides; but in retiring from this position I carry with me only the kindest regards for all with whom I have been associated, and I trust I have merited as much from you. It affords to me, as it must to any other right-thinking man, the best satisfaction that in going hence I can conscientiously put my hand upon my heart and exclaim, "Mens sibi conscia rect." If I have failed in the discharge of my duties, it has been the result of errors of judgment, and not from a want of disposition to exercise that judgment according to the measure which Providence has given to me.

Before retiring, allow me to introduce to you General Burns [General Commanding this district. There is little doubt that the lecture will be largely attended, as there are few persons in the South who did not feel an interest in Maximilan. milian and Carlotta, and looked to the perma nent establishment of the empire as a con summation devoutly to be wished for.

The Phosphate Beds of Ashley River .-Credit to whom Credit is Due.

To the Editors of the Daily News: This valuable depository of wealth to the State of Carolina-more valuable than all the copper mines of Lake Superior-and of incalculably more national importance than the gold mines of California, has loomed up within the last two months, to the astonishment of all who have interested 'hemselves enough to inquire into the matter. Lying on a public road, within ten miles of Charleston-travelled over daily for the last century- in the very midst of the geological explorations of the last twenty-five years-described by the State Geologist twenty years since, and well known, since the visit of Professor Agassiz, as the "fish bed of the Charleston basin"-how is it that now for the first time its value has been discovered? Dr. N. A. Pratt and Professor F. Holme stand prominent before the public as connect-On motion of Alderman Ravenel the Council | ed with the development of this new resource of our State. But so far as we know, neither of these very modest Professors have seen then took occasion to pay their respects per- fit to enlighten the public mind on the subject.

Can they not be induced to ventilate the matter? Many are inclined to ask: "Can there any good thing come out of Nazareth?" And who is he that hath power to produce it? We hope that those who are competent to do S. BUSINESS NOTICES.

RODUNDA ISLAND GUANO. A Pure, Unmixed, Natural Guano, as Fine as Flour (although not Ground), just in the Condition in which it is

THIS GUANO IS FROM A RECENTLY DIS-COVERED deposit on Rodunda Island, in the Carribean Sea, West Indies, latitude 16 degrees 56 minutes north, longitude 62 degrees 23 minutes

It has been used for many years in the West India Islands in the cultivation of Sugar Cane and cereals with great success; was introduced for the first time to the farmers and planters of the United States in the spring of 1866, and has met with unprecedented success, as the subjoined reports and testimonials tulty corroborate.

success, as the subjoined reports and testimonials fully corroborate.

The RODUNDA GUANO is not a mineral phosphate, requiring the action of the Sulphuric Acid to render it soluble; its great power as a fertilizer is in its entire solubility, without the aid of acid. It is not a "manipulation" or Compound of rish or Flesh with Mineral Phosphates, the regularity of which is always uncertain and dependent upon, and controllold by the honesty of the manufacturer. The RODUNDA is a PURE NATURAL GUANO (that term being understood to mean the exprement of fish-eating birds, as the large per centage of organic matter sufficiently attests, and as found upon the Island of Rodunda, in the very state as imported and sold to consumers.

of Rodunda, in the very statement of the fineness and to consumers.

The regularity and uniformity of the fineness and condition of the various cargoes already imported by us into the United States, tested by the analysis of the most eminent Chemists of this country and Europe, is sufficient proof of its origin and a guarance of our ability to furnish, this Guano of the quality and purity represented.

ope, is sufficient proto of its dright and a systame of our ability to furnish, this Guano of the quality and purity represented.

The PRICE of the RODUNDA GUANO is not the least unimportant in these days of agricultural competition and pecuniary embarrassment.

The very low price at which it can be sold places it within the reach of every farner, and avoids the risk of large loss frequently incurred by failures of the crops in the purchase of high priced fertilizers.

In the preparation of lands for Wheat and other cereals this Guano possesses properties that reader it more desirable for these crops than any yet offered to the public.

Pamphlets containing the analysis and experiments made by the most prominent Chemists of this country and in Europe, together with innumerable certificates of its entire success from farmers and planters, can be obtained at our Office, to which we invite attention.
